

A P P E N D I X III:

THE SUBSTITUTE ABSTRACT:

Abstract

The disclosure relates to a method for producing solid forms of administration by means of melt extrusion. A polymer binder, at least one pharmaceutical active agent and optionally other additives are mixed and the mixture is melted in an extruder and then extruded in the form of a continuous plastic product strand. The extruder is a planetary roller extruder (10) which is equipped with a central spindle (13) and planetary spindles (14).